

This polygon approach is now abandoned, in favor of a custom function that determines whether points are in the curly shape.

$\square = .005$